PROFILE

I am a skilled front-end and full-stack developer with strong experience in Next.js, React JS, and Vue JS. I specialize in building dynamic and scalable web applications.

I deeply understand RESTful APIs and MongoDB, enabling seamless integration with backend services and optimizing data fetching. My proficiency in Git and CI/CD pipelines ensures smooth version control, automated testing, and streamlined deployment processes.

Equipped with strong problem-solving skills, I excel at debugging performance issues, optimizing applications, and enhancing system efficiency. I thrive in collaborative environments, leveraging my good communication and teamwork abilities to work effectively with designers, developers, and project managers.
